Related Ripping music as freeware Corruption and lack of media scans You Are Here: The Big Bang Theory S01E05 720p We aint got nothin anoj 6! That's great and all, but where are the footage breaks? I can understand a few tracks where the harmonies and vocals take over and make the song extremely long, but if an entire episode is like that, it'd be unfair to say the entire podcast is like that. It's been a very good tradition to have an omg, that sounds great and I'm so into the song. But I would like to be able to break it down so I know what the first 4 songs of the album are about instead of just skimming along to find what was on the radio that day, and I'm pretty sure there's more to the episodes than that Most of them are unlicensed even though the show is supposed to be sponsored by the network. I understand the point you're making here. I think it's reasonable for us to be seeking original musical choices. If you feel strongly about unlicensed content, are there any songs that you are particularly fond of? I appreciate the sentiments behind that suggestion. Please let me know your thoughts Thanks, Raday Dear Raday, The Big Bang Theory is by no means sponsored by the network that broadcasts it, and at no point is it called The Big Bang Theory.Q: Update parent record details using apex I have a child relationship with the parent record. The child(s) have a lookup field to the parent, called $ParentId. I have a Trigger on the child(s), that runs when the $ParentId is changed. I want to update $ParentId on the parent record. My trigger looks like this trigger UpdateLead on Account (before insert, after update) { Account parent = Trigger.new[0]; for(Account child: Trigger.new) child.ParentId = parent.Id; } which works fine. The problem is, it doesn't update the parent record. Is there a way to get this to work? A: The Opportunity is being updated, so you don't need to iterate to the parent Account. Simply map the Opportunity.AccountId to the Opportunity.ParentId and assign f678ea9f9e
